General observations	The Firm was satisfied with the quality of execution obtained from each of the brokers listed above for trading in the ‘Equities – Shares & Depositary Receipts – Tick size liquidity bands 5 and 6 (from 2000 trades per day)’ asset class during the relevant period and the Firm’s hierarchy of execution factors is described below
	Summary of analysis	Conclusion
Execution factors	For trades in the ‘Equities – Shares & Depositary Receipts – Tick size liquidity bands 5 and 6 (from 2000 trades per day)’ asset class during the relevant period, the Firm generally placed the highest importance on the execution factors of price and transaction cost. However, where relevant (and in accordance with the flexibility afforded to the Firm by its Order Execution Policy), the Firm also considered (without limitation) changing volume patterns, news flow impacting the trading pattern of the stock, block trading flow, equity volatility, trader knowledge or market colour regarding supply/demand imbalances, bid/ask spread, size and time of day	The relative importance given to the execution factors was in line with the Firm’s Order Execution Policy

General observations	The Firm was satisfied with the quality of execution obtained from each of the venues listed above for trading in the ‘Equity Derivatives - Swaps and other equity derivatives’ asset class during the relevant period and the Firm’s hierarchy of execution factors is described below. Transactions that are included within the ‘Equity Derivatives - Swaps and other equity derivatives’ instrument class are often effected by the Firm seeking “indicative pricing” from an executing broker. If the indicative pricing is acceptable to the Firm, the executing broker then enters into a cash equity transaction with the relevant swap counterparty and a corresponding swap arises between the swap counterparty and the fund or funds on whose behalf of which the Firm is acting. Although the pricing of the cash equities transaction influences the pricing of the related swap, the Firm has not included the indicative pricing activity conducted with executing brokers in the analysis of its top 5 execution venues above (or in the ‘Equities – Shares & Depositary Receipts’ instrument class) because the Firm does not execute (or transmit or place orders that give rise to) such transactions. Instead, the Firm has, for the purposes of the ‘Equity Derivatives - Swaps and other equity derivatives’ instrument class, counted only the swap transactions to which the relevant funds are party (and has treated the Firm’s involvement in effecting those transactions as a form of “direct” execution, with the consequence that the Firm has categorised the relevant swap counterparties as execution venues rather than brokers).
